

BLM Resource Advisory Councils

Partners Across The West

Art Goodtimes

Biographical Sketch, Southwest RAC Member

Art Goodtimes is a published "performance poet and a politician" as well, bringing a broad range of experience to the Southwest RAC. Goodtimes is serving his second term on the RAC representing Category 2, environmental constituency.

All aspects of public land management fuel Goodtimes' commitment to the RAC. His leadership skills and long-term commitment, to not only his community but Southwestern Colorado as a whole, are proven through his everyday activities as San Miguel County Commissioner, president of the Telluride Institute, and coordinator and poet-in-residence of numerous festivals and conferences.

Goodtimes lists a few of his interests as hiking, mountain biking, camping, gardening, mushroom hunting and native plant enthusiast. Goodtimes and his wife, Mary Friedberg, make their home at Cloud Acre in the San Miguel Basin of the Colorado Plateau. They have four children.